Ski course teaches safety

Ski Technician student Kathy Elwood learns to do it right under the eagle eye of Ski Tech. instructor David Steers. This course was held this last weekend in Whistler, and previously ran in Vancouver in Sept. Students learn to match ski equipment to skiers, to sell and service ski equipment, and how technical ski shop operations work, with an emphasis on customer safety and correct procedures.

Nov. 4-9 Colleges week

The Provincial government has proclaimed that November 4 to 9 is Colleges and Institutes Week, and we even have a third or fourth generation photocopy of the proclamation down in Information Services to prove it. (Somehow it doesn't look so impressive in blurry black and white, though.) A gripping press release from the Ministry of Education informs us that BC has 20 community colleges and institutes, and goes on to say: "In announcing the proclamation Mr. Heinrich emphasized that B.C. post-secondary institutions have become active participants in the economic development of their local communities. 'We are seeing the colleges and institutes expand their traditional role and involve themselves in research and retraining in response to changing technology.'" Colleges and Institutes Week—don't miss it.

Universities come to Cap

University representatives will be on campus on Thursday, October 31 in conjunction with the High School Counsellors' Conference, sponsored by the Advising Centre. If you know any students who are considering entry to specialized university programs, or who are in second year and planning to transfer, suggest that they take this occasion to speak to advisors from UBC, SFU and U.Vic. Students should be referred to the Advising Centre in M building to make an appointment time, or they can call the Advising Centre at local 443. Jeri Krogseth of the Centre says, "we would appreciate Faculty's help in making students aware of this opportunity."

Student Union activities

There will be a particularly good double feature on in the North Cafe on Tuesday night—2001 and 2010 are being shown starting at 7:00. On Wednesday the movie is Friday the Thirteenth Part Five, and on Thursday there will be a Halloween social sponsored by the scary Outdoor Recreation students. Movies are free and are held in the east wing of the North Cafe.

Fitness Centre open later

Joe Iacobellis is pleased to announce that the Fitness Centre has extended its hours. It is now open from 8 am to 8 pm Monday to Thursday and from 8 am to 5 pm on Fridays. (It is still closed weekends, of course.) This represents an addition of 12 hours per week.

Soccer team: raffle

Now that you know who the soccer team members are, you can rush out and buy your raffle ticket from them. The team is selling tickets for a two week vacation for two in Hawaii, sponsored by CP Air, and with only 1100 tickets being sold the odds are excellent. The draw will be held at the Christmas party, December 20, and they are $5 each. If you can't catch a soccer team member (they run fast) try calling Joe Iacobellis at 320.

Basketball news

Basketball is getting underway this fall, and the Women's team will be playing this Friday the 25th against the University of Victoria at 4:30 pm at Delbrook Gym. On Saturday at 6:30 in the same location they will be playing the popular game against the Blues graduates. The men also play UVic Friday at 6 pm, and Grads on Saturday at 8:15. Spectators are more than welcome; Delbrook Gym is located at 600 Queens Rd.

BLOODLETTING!

Reminder: the Blood Donor Clinic is being held here at the College on Halloween. With such an appropriate mnemonic device, they will not accept "I forgot" as an excuse this year.
